ACID IN STOMACH SOURS THE FOOD

Says Excess of Hydrochloric Acid is Cause of Indigestion.
A well-known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion is nearly always due to acidity—acid stomach—and not, as most folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation, then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. We then get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas, or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash, or nausea.
He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from your pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast while it is effervescent, and furthermore, to continue this for one week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.
Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salt is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.

YOUR SICK CHILD IS CONSTIPATED! LOOK AT TONGUE

If cross, feverish or bilious give "California Syrup of Figs."
No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given. If your little one is out of sorts, half sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! See if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged, poisonous, undigested food and sour bile gently move out of your little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.
Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.
Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

MEXICAN TROOPS ENGAGE VILLISTAS.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Reports of heavy fighting between Mexican troops and Villa bandits at Trinchera, forty miles west of Santa Ana, came to the War Department today by way of Nogales. Gen. Gomez, commanding the de facto forces, and the bandits, under command of Gen. Reyna, began fighting on the morning of March 15, and it still was in progress at noon the following day. The automobile loads of wounded de facto troops were reported taken into Santa Ana.
Maj. Gen. Pershing has reported that the last of the National Guard troops at the border will move homeward by March 21, four days earlier than had been expected.

Laugh When People Step On Your Feet

Try this yourself then pass it along to others. It works!

Ouch! I!!! This kind of rough talk will be heard less here in town if people troubled with corns will follow the simple advice of this Cincinnati authority, who says that a few drops of a drug called frezzone when applied to a tender, aching corn soreness at once, and soon the corn dries up and lifts right out without pain.
He says frezzone is an ether compound which dries immediately and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding tissue or skin. A quarter of an ounce of frezzone will cost very little at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Millions of Americans women will welcome this announcement since the inauguration of the high heels.

CHIHUAHUA CITY ATTACK

Next Move of Outlaws

Germans Suspected of Intrigue Sought by Secret Service Agents.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
After coming here from Torreon he was seen with a number of German refugees from Mexico, then disappeared.
American officers from Chihuahua city say Dr. Knopf at one time refused to raise a brigade of Mexican troops to fight against the United States, the brigade to be drilled and commanded by German officers.
Secret service agents here have learned that the Sonora troops of the de facto army, which came to Juarez recently and left for Chihuahua city, included a number of German officers.
Translations of Mexican papers published in the interior of Mexico have been received and denounce Gen. Carranza for his attitude toward the German people and his friendly attitude toward the German government.

TROOPS TO GUARD DAM.
United States troops from Columbus, N. M., are expected to be sent to the Elephant Butte Dam, near Lordsburg, N. M., to guard the concrete structure.
Secret service agents are also watching the movements of Germans in that part of New Mexico, two having passed through El Paso, recently.
Fear was expressed here today that in the event of war between the United States and Germany an effort might be made to dynamite the concrete dam and release the great body of water stored behind it for irrigating lands in the Rio Grande Valley.

DR. KNOPF LOCATED.
Dr. Edward H. Knopf, who came here from Torreon, a military and who admitted having been with Villa as his personal physician, has been located at Chihuahua, N. M., fourteen miles from the big dam. He is said to be practicing medicine there.

STOCKHOLM (via London) March 15, 10:45 p.m.—Passengers arriving at Haparanda, Sweden, with today's hospital train, reported that two men of prominence in Petrograd had been murdered. One of them was said to have been Alexander D. Protopopov, Minister of the Interior, and the other was believed to be Boris Sturmer, the old Russian government, it is alleged, tried to bring troops to Petrograd from Finland to save the situation, but the troops refused to go. Helsingfors is declared to be in a state of siege.

BRIDGE OVER NEVA DOWN, THE REPORT IN SWEDEN.

[BY WIRELESS AND A. P.]
STOCKHOLM, Wednesday, March 14, (via Berlin to the Associated Press via Tuckerton, N. J. March 15.)—Reports of serious disturbances in Russia are published in Swedish newspapers. The Tidningen of Sundsvall published a statement that a railroad bridge over the Neva River in Petrograd has been dynamited by revolutionists.
The Nyheter of Haparanda prints an interview with a Swedish business man who arrived in Petrograd Saturday in a Swedish ship. This man is quoted as saying there had been open revolution in many cities of Russia since Thursday of last week. Especially violent riots are reported to have occurred in Petrograd on Saturday, shops being stormed by mobs. According to this information, publication of newspapers was suspended and the authorities posted placards warning the people to remain indoors to avoid danger.
The Nyheter says that other travelers from Petrograd report that similar disturbances occurred there on Friday, that the soldiers were compelled to use their sabers and that many persons were wounded.
Dispatches from Stockholm usually are sent by cable via London. In this instance the telegraph to Berlin and the wireless evidently were employed to use with the exception of a London dispatch last night, quoting a Swedish engineer as saying on his return to Stockholm from force until actual combat began to take place between the police and the soldiers, and afterward between different regiments of soldiers, over the order issued Saturday morning to shoot on all gatherings.

I saw this order posted with intense astonishment, as it was evident the demonstrations which had occurred on the Nevsky Prospekt were not of sufficient size or consequence to merit severe action to shoot on all gatherings.

Both Friday and Saturday I took long tours through the factory districts, where real trouble was possible, and found the crowd silent, but not ready for trouble. Strikes were taking place hourly, because the men were too hungry to go to work, but I also saw sledge trains of four in all parts.

While the absence of four was certainly the cause of the demonstrations, it seemed on Sunday that partial relief would bridge the danger until an order was published giving the police power to shoot without waiting to inquire.

The order seemed almost like provocation. Certainly, the people took it, and the soldiers also regarded it as provocative. If provocative, the situation turned unexpectedly when the soldiers refused to shoot the people, and eventually all joined the people in a fight against the police.

POLICE AND GENDARMES.

On Monday, at 1 in the afternoon, the main part of the city was still full of police and gendarmes. Four hours later, when I returned from the revolutionary scenes near the Duma, I traversed the Nevsky Prospekt for over a mile without seeing a policeman.

The Duma was in session, as though only ordinary events were transpiring, when the revolution was under way in the immediate neighborhood. Revolutionary committees were undoubtedly busy all Sunday night, as the first fights of soldiers against soldiers occurred late Sunday afternoon.

These fights continued sporadically all night Sunday, and I was awakened at 3 o'clock Monday morning in my room on the Molska Canal by steady firing in the direction of the Catherine Canal, a quarter of a mile distant.

I dressed and started down the deserted Nevsky, but was stopped before I reached the Kazan Cathedral, which had been the center of small demonstrations on Friday and Saturday. The whole region was cut off. This was my first intimation of real trouble, and the cable filed on Saturday, which I have just been informed was wired this morning, in which I intimated that there was possible danger, expressed my complete conviction at that time. Since then I have been unable to get a cable through.

EVENTS UNEXPECTED.

I believe the greater portion of the people of Petrograd, including many now leading the revolution, went on Sunday night unquiet, but not expecting the events of Monday morning, when the first troops revolted against their orders.

Certainly many members of the Duma arose Monday morning without realizing that they were going to play a historic role before night. They told the truth when they telegraphed to the Emperor that the government had failed to maintain order, and that a committee had been formed by the Duma to prevent disorders and to form a new ministry for His Majesty's consideration.

Things have gone too fast for me to know all the details of how it was done, but between Monday night, when automobiles and motor trucks were racing wildly through the streets, filled with civilians unaccustomed to arms, and the city was not yet completely in the hands of the provisional government—between then and Tuesday morning, when most of the arms were again in the hands of uniformed soldiers, and responsible patrols were preventing disorders.

Much credit for maintaining order is due to the university students, who went on strike on Friday. They were active everywhere Monday, urging the soldiers to join the movement, and their reckless courage of their own lives was a source of constant admiration. Then they placed themselves immediately in the hands of the Duma committee, and stored order where they had created a revolt.

The success of the whole movement, from the viewpoint of Petrograd, seems complete, as all the functions of the government are here.

ACCUSE DISTILLER OF POSTAL FRAUD.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

LOUISVILLE (Ky.) March 15.—Dan H. Russell, president of a Louisville distilling company and prominent labor man, was arrested here today on a Federal indictment charging him with having knowingly received stolen property.

The arrest was made in connection with an alleged conspiracy to buy and sell stolen postage stamps. Postoffice inspectors estimate that within the last few years the government has lost $40,000 through the conspiracy.

The conspiracy was alleged to have been organized by Russell and a number of other prominent labor men.

Internal situation in the United States and the revolution which has taken place in Russia.

Nevertheless, the same causes have operated in Russia as are at work in this country.

THE DUMA REVOLUTION.

The Duma revolution was directed against the pro-German ministry. According to the single message received by the State Department from Petrograd, the Duma has imprisoned the members of the ministry and the Chief of Staff of the Russian army.

The Emperor, upon the recommendation of the ministry, has issued a ukase proroguing the Duma. That body, however, was dissatisfied with the members of the ministry and the conditions of the people. Its plans for the revolution were carefully laid. If the Emperor should determine to throw in his lot with the pro-Germans it would not be surprising should the Duma and the army recall Grand Duke Nicholas.

Nicholaevitch, who was transferred from the command of the eastern front to the Caucasus. Exactly what the outcome of the revolution will be no one can tell. It will be recalled that a few months after the war began, Count Witte, formerly Russian Premier and a close adviser of the Czar, appeared in Berlin. Upon his way back to Petrograd he conveniently died immediately thereafter.

A palace revolution took place and the pro-Germans were ousted from power. The pro-Allies were enabled to take these drastic measures because at the time Grand Duke Nicholas, in command of the Russian army, was penetrating Hungary and holding the Germans back in the north. When the German army occurred in Petrograd, the Duke was transferred to the Caucasus. Since that time there have been successive intrigues in Petrograd. In the hope of holding Russia firmly to the Allies' cause, Lord Milner of the British Ministry and the Castelnau of France were sent to Petrograd. Whether they are still there is not known.

DESIRES OF GERMAN.

What the Germans desire above everything else, of course, is a separate peace with Russia. Failing in this, they want to nullify Russian strength through an internal revolution in the land of the Czar. Admittedly the revolution has taken place at the best time in the war for the Allies, for the condition of the country is such that no advance by German troops is possible. If the pro-German element rallies against the Duma, as is probable, then conditions in Russia will be such that Germany will be free to launch formidable attacks against Italy and possibly upon the English and French fronts.

limits competition and enables the unionites to secure higher wages.

Boasts have been made by the union lobby here that it controlled the Senate and no bill opposed by the walking delegates would get out of committee. Some color was lent to this claim by the fact that five of the six Senators from San Francisco were placed on the committee of capital and labor. At the completion of tonight's discussion, however, six of the eleven members of the committee voted to make the limiting of apprentices a penal offense.

After the hearing, the San Francisco Senators announced that they would continue their opposition and would try to defeat the bill on the floor of the Senate when it comes up next week for passage.

UNION MEN FEAR TO SHACKLE LABOR.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

SACRAMENTO, March 15.—First blood was scored tonight by the friends of industrial freedom in their conflict with the labor union over prospective legislation when the Senate Committee on labor and capital recommended the passage of the Rominger apprentice bill. This bill has been before the Legislature for the last four sessions. Its purpose is to legalize the adoption by any association or union of rules which prevent boys or girls from becoming apprentices to learn any useful and lawful trade.

In the bylaws of nearly every union affiliated with the American Federation of Labor there are restrictions on the number of apprentices that may be employed by any person whose establishment is run by the labor despot. Protests have been made that this makes it impossible for scores of young men to learn useful trades; but the unions insist on it for the reason that it limits competition and enables the unionites to secure higher wages.

Boasts have been made by the union lobby here that it controlled the Senate and no bill opposed by the walking delegates would get out of committee. Some color was lent to this claim by the fact that five of the six Senators from San Francisco were placed on the committee of capital and labor. At the completion of tonight's discussion, however, six of the eleven members of the committee voted to make the limiting of apprentices a penal offense.

After the hearing, the San Francisco Senators announced that they would continue their opposition and would try to defeat the bill on the floor of the Senate when it comes up next week for passage.

OUTGREW HER STRENGTH

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

A fine, tall daughter, the pride of her parents, may have grown too fast. If, with her height, she is calm, even-tempered, rosy, with bright eyes and a springing footstep, she has nothing to fear for your girl. But this rapid growth is sometimes gained at the expense of her strength. When the temper, a constant hunger for sweets, headaches, and a pain in the back and side after a little healthy exertion mean the last four seasons. Its purpose is to legalize the adoption by any association or union of rules which prevent boys or girls from becoming apprentices to learn any useful and lawful trade.

In the bylaws of nearly every union affiliated with the American Federation of Labor there are restrictions on the number of apprentices that may be employed by any person whose establishment is run by the labor despot. Where Disease Breeds

Germs breed by millions in unsanitary caspids. From them are distributed the seeds of tuberculosis, pneumonia, gripe, bronchitis and other maladies of the lungs, throat and nose.

Toilets, particularly yard toilets, are favorite nesting places for the germs of typhoid, dysentery, all intestinal troubles and some blood disorders. They are also depositories for the germs of any disease with which their users may be afflicted.

In kitchen sinks and in their drain pipes—in the drains of both tubs and wash basins—in garbage cans—in unwashed milk bottles and in all places where grease, food particles and all matter subject to decay are kept or collect—there disease germs are always present.

Lysol

Disinfectant

Yet you can make a better fight against disease than it can make against you and yours, by the regular use of Lysol Disinfectant. Lysol kills all germs immediately, no matter what their nature. It is impossible for germs to breed where Lysol is used regularly. A 25c bottle goes a long way; it will make two gallons of reliable disinfectant. A 50c bottle makes five gallons.

Remember that there is but One True Lysol—the preparation bottled, signed and sealed by Lehn & Fink. Get a bottle today; begin at once to have your home surgically clean as well as eye-clean.

PLACE HUGE NAVY ORDERS.

Shipbuilders Put Nation's Needs Before Profits.

Nine New Warships will be Given Precedence.

Four Scout Cruisers to be Built on West Coast.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, March 15.—Contractors for what is believed to be the largest single order for fighting craft ever given by any nation were today by the Navy Department to place. Private builders undertook to turn out four great battle cruisers and five scout cruisers, costing nearly $112,000,000 for hulls and machinery alone, and pledged themselves to keep 70 per cent. of their working forces on navy construction.

In response to an appeal to their patriotism by Secretary Daniels, the major shipbuilders have agreed to accept 10 per cent. profit on the battle cruisers, whose cost will represent about $76,000,000 of the total sum involved in today's contracts. A fifth battle cruiser will be built at the Philadelphia navy yard so as not to strain the limit of facilities of private establishments. The builders are besieged with offers of merchant work, and are getting as high as 50 per cent. profit on these jobs with more work in sight than they can do. They have turned their facilities at the disposal of the government, making it unnecessary for the President to consider authorizing authority to commanders.

FAST TYPES.
Both classes of private builders today are pet types to naval architecture and are designed for a speed of thirty-five knots an hour. The scouts were awarded on bids submitted yesterday, prices ranging from $6,800,000 to $6,950,000, and stipulated time of delivery from thirty to thirty-two months. These figures can be no guide to the actual cost or time, however, as under the emergency clause of the naval appropriation bill, construction will be hastened to the limit, the government footing the bill for additional cost.

The battle cruisers, the fixed limit of cost of which is $19,000,000 per ship, exclusive of speeding-up expense, were placed in the hands of Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company, two ships; Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation, one ship; New York Shipbuilding Company, one ship.

NEED NEW WAYS.
With the exception of the New York company, private builders will have to install new ways and machinery for the huge craft. The government will bear its fair share of this expense. Already an appropriation of $6,000,000 has been appropriated for the Philadelphia yard for capital shipbuilding.

Four of the scout cruisers will be built on the Pacific Coast, two by the Seattle Construction Company and two by the Union Iron Works. The San Francisco yard will build upon also to build a number of destroyers. In addition to the fifteen destroyers authorized by the naval appropriation bill, the department is planning to construct many craft of this type under the small-boat emergency fund.

Of the authorized building programs remaining for the navy are three dreadnaughts, thirty-eight submarines, the fifteen destroyers.

The Mission Play shows you beautifully, musically, and entertainingly a real reason for a purpose in life. It lifts you by the inspiration of great achievement, against the great odds encountered by the founders of civilization on our western shores a century before the gold rush days. (The first colonists and developers of California had some troubles.)

It teaches you the sweet lesson of getting the most out of life by putting the most service into it and the haunting melodies of the first songs made scores of years ago. It is a life so rich in detail of color, costume and music of the purple past that new points are observed and gained with each visit.

stoyers, and several auxiliary vessels. Bids will be opened early in April on these craft and at the same time orders will be placed for more than 100 coast patrol boats. A committee of small boat builders already has approved the plans for the new craft which will be of high speed and 110 feet in length, insuring good seagoing qualities.

The ultimate cost to the government of the ships ordered today will exceed by many millions the figures given for hull and machinery. It will cost $46,692 per ship to arm and equip the scouts and $5,377,110 additional for each battle cruiser. The shipbuilders have made similar agreements with the contractors who supply material and equipment to go into the ships.

Plans for the three 42,000-ton dreadnaughts are not completed. At least two, possibly all three, will have to go to government yards.

SENATE DISCUSSES COLOMBIAN TREATY.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, March 15.—The Senate talked for three hours today behind closed doors about the Colombian treaty without reaching a vote. Several Senators are expected to speak tomorrow and they have concluded there may be an agreement for action Saturday.

He declared the treaty was a "black and white" document, and that if the United States bought Colombia's friendship, it was a "black and white" document, and that if the United States bought Colombia's friendship, it was a "black and white" document.

JOHNSON OUT, STEPHENS TAKES REINS OF STATE.

Senator-elect Delivers Valedictory to Members of State Patronage—New Executive Slowly in Selection of His Official Family.

Madsen Holds His Job as Executive Secretary.

SACRAMENTO, March 15.—"Cheer up, the devil is dead." This cheery greeting, emanating from Assemblyman McCray, has been repeated by hundreds of lips in Sacramento tonight to mark the abdication of Gov. Johnson and the assumption of the duties of Governor of California by Lieut.-Gov. Stephens.

For the ex-Governor it was a bitter pill; in his farewell address he said that to tender his resignation as Governor was the hardest task he ever performed. As he concluded his own funeral oration there were audible sobs in his voice, these sobs being the response from more than 500 members of the Legislature.

THE NEW GOVERNOR.

Lieut.-Gov. Stephens is not nearly so popular in Sacramento tonight as he was when he arrived here in January to preside over the Legislature. The Progressives are doubtful about him. They are afraid he will want to divide a part of the pork with the regulars and they are not sure enough to go around. The regulars regard the appointment of Madsen as an evidence of weakness; they expected him to choose his own secretaries and be something more than a photograph.

Seeking to be fair to the Lieutenant-Governor, however, the regulars content themselves with saying that they regard the appointment of Madsen as only a temporary expedient. They expect to see Jack Neylan retire from the Board of Control within the next fortnight and the Lieutenant-Governor to take his place and select his own private secretary.

Mrs. Stephens, the wife of the Lieutenant-Governor, has been several days in San Francisco for several days. She has been here from her bedside today to be among those present when Gov. Johnson resigned. Under these conditions Mr. Stephens has not been able to map out his future course and select his immediate assistants.

NO NEW COMMISSION.
Contrary to general report, the Lieutenant-Governor will not take the oath of office as Governor. No commission was issued to him and he carried the title of Governor until he was sworn in by Judge Hart.

PRESS TELL STORY.
I shall not deal with the material side of this question, or the fact that 1,250,000 children are compelled to go hungry and are threatened with disease and starvation. All this is being told in the West in speeches, in letters, in literature, in cartoons and in personal pleas. Suffice it to say that the children of Belgium are in need of help.

"WATCHFUL WAITING."
"Watchful waiting" characterizes the attitude of the regular Republicans.

"As a Republican I have the right to expect the assistance of Gov. Stephens in securing the passage of real Republican legislation, limiting the expense of the State and avoiding visionary experiments. I shall support him in every effort to secure the welfare of our State." So spoke Assemblyman Bartlett of Los Angeles.

A report is in circulation tonight that Lieut.-Gov. Stephens will appoint Stanley Benedict as his executive secretary. It is known that Stephens expects to take care of his own affairs, leaving the executive duties to the executive secretary. This has aroused already a howl of protest from the liberal element, as Benedict is a Prohibitionist.

Assemblyman Pettit (Rep.) said that he would give to the new Governor his loyal support, and trusted that an era of real Republican rule was dawning.

President Collins of the Board of Equalization and Secretary of State Frank Jordan spoke in a similar strain. But they displayed less enthusiasm than when they first met Mr. Stephens ten weeks ago.

B. Cary, former Assemblyman and former Progressive, said tonight that he had read the story of the Lieutenant-Governor's selection and was disappointed. He said that he had read the story of the Lieutenant-Governor's selection and was disappointed.

Lieut.-Gov. Stephens is not nearly so popular in Sacramento tonight as he was when he arrived here in January to preside over the Legislature. The Progressives are doubtful about him. They are afraid he will want to divide a part of the pork with the regulars and they are not sure enough to go around. The regulars regard the appointment of Madsen as an evidence of weakness; they expected him to choose his own secretaries and be something more than a photograph.

Seeking to be fair to the Lieutenant-Governor, however, the regulars content themselves with saying that they regard the appointment of Madsen as only a temporary expedient. They expect to see Jack Neylan retire from the Board of Control within the next fortnight and the Lieutenant-Governor to take his place and select his own private secretary.

Mrs. Stephens, the wife of the Lieutenant-Governor, has been several days in San Francisco for several days. She has been here from her bedside today to be among those present when Gov. Johnson resigned. Under these conditions Mr. Stephens has not been able to map out his future course and select his immediate assistants.

NO NEW COMMISSION.
Contrary to general report, the Lieutenant-Governor will not take the oath of office as Governor. No commission was issued to him and he carried the title of Governor until he was sworn in by Judge Hart.

PRESS TELL STORY.
I shall not deal with the material side of this question, or the fact that 1,250,000 children are compelled to go hungry and are threatened with disease and starvation. All this is being told in the West in speeches, in letters, in literature, in cartoons and in personal pleas. Suffice it to say that the children of Belgium are in need of help.

"WATCHFUL WAITING."
"Watchful waiting" characterizes the attitude of the regular Republicans.

"As a Republican I have the right to expect the assistance of Gov. Stephens in securing the passage of real Republican legislation, limiting the expense of the State and avoiding visionary experiments. I shall support him in every effort to secure the welfare of our State." So spoke Assemblyman Bartlett of Los Angeles.

A report is in circulation tonight that Lieut.-Gov. Stephens will appoint Stanley Benedict as his executive secretary. It is known that Stephens expects to take care of his own affairs, leaving the executive duties to the executive secretary. This has aroused already a howl of protest from the liberal element, as Benedict is a Prohibitionist.

Assemblyman Pettit (Rep.) said that he would give to the new Governor his loyal support, and trusted that an era of real Republican rule was dawning.

President Collins of the Board of Equalization and Secretary of State Frank Jordan spoke in a similar strain. But they displayed less enthusiasm than when they first met Mr. Stephens ten weeks ago.

B. Cary, former Assemblyman and former Progressive, said tonight that he had read the story of the Lieutenant-Governor's selection and was disappointed. He said that he had read the story of the Lieutenant-Governor's selection and was disappointed.

SACRAMENTO, March 15.—"Cheer up, the devil is dead." This cheery greeting, emanating from Assemblyman McCray, has been repeated by hundreds of lips in Sacramento tonight to mark the abdication of Gov. Johnson and the assumption of the duties of Governor of California by Lieut.-Gov. Stephens.

For the ex-Governor it was a bitter pill; in his farewell address he said that to tender his resignation as Governor was the hardest task he ever performed. As he concluded his own funeral oration there were audible sobs in his voice, these sobs being the response from more than 500 members of the Legislature.

THE NEW GOVERNOR.

Lieut.-Gov. Stephens is not nearly so popular in Sacramento tonight as he was when he arrived here in January to preside over the Legislature. The Progressives are doubtful about him. DISSENSIONS COME TO A HEAD WHEN CZAR SUSPENDS DUMA.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS REVIEW.]

ST. PETERSBURG, March 15.—
The Duma and one of the foremost Liberal leaders, clashed verbally with Minister Protopopoff and reports from Petrograd were that a similar denunciatory action by the Council of the Empire and the Congress of Nobles.
The Petrograd press on January 21 was reported to be pessimistic over the postponement of the sittings of the Duma and the Council of the Empire. The Emperor in a rescript to Premier Golitsine on January 21, promised a more benevolent attitude toward the Duma by the government and urged the Premier to devote his attention to the question of supplies for the Russian armies, which the Duma had severely criticized.
The Imperial order was taken in some Russian quarters to mean that the government and the Duma and the Council of the Empire soon would be working together and without contentions.
The session of the Duma was reopened January 17. On March 4 it was reported that the Council of the Empire had adopted a resolution calling upon the government to explain what measures it had taken to check the disorganization of the transport service and to guarantee that the army and country should be supplied with food, fuel and raw materials. This was followed by reports of unrest in Petrograd over the shortage in food supplies.
On March 12 Emperor Nicholas suspended the sittings of the Duma and the Council of the Empire, announcing the suspensions, added,
"I will be resumed next month unless extraordinary circumstances supervene."

DUMA GETS ANGRY.

Four days later the Emperor, because of the changes in the government, which included the appointment of Alexander D. Protopopoff, whom Berlin newspapers described as the "power behind the throne,"
as Minister of the Interior, announced the postponement of the opening of the session of the Council of the Empire and the Council of the Empire. Meanwhile, the disagreements between the Duma and the so-called reactionaries, who gained control of the government in the elevation of Prince Golitsine to the Premiership, President Rodzianko, President of

with the ultimatum of the brother-hoods was based upon the contention that they must wait and abide by the decision of the Supreme Court on the Adamson Act.

They asserted their willingness to submit the whole controversy to the eight-hour commission if the law is declared unconstitutional and to accept any decree of the commission.

Pointing out to the four chiefs

the grave international crisis which confronted the nation, they appealed to their patriotism to prevent a strike. The brotherhood chiefs, in a formal statement, expressed indignation at the attitude taken by the railroads in declaring a strike would be unpractical.
"It goes without saying," the statement declared, "that the railroad employees have been patient and loyal to the government and country and in the event of war have offered their services to the government. It must not be overlooked that during this period, when the railroads have persistently denied their employees that which was intended by the Congress in the Adamson law, the railroads, during a year's period, showed net earnings of over a thousand million dollars, while the employees have no increase in wages, have suffered an increase in cost of living equal to more than 50 per cent.
"If, after more than a year, we have failed to secure some relief, and train and engineers conclude to fold their hands and wait, it is really rather than by degrees,
should they be considered as disloyal to their flag?"

MAY REED PRESIDENT.

W. G. Lee was informed tonight of the announcement from Washington that President Wilson would do everything in his power to avert a strike and probably would appeal directly to the patriotism of the men themselves. He asked what effect this would have.
"Why do you ask me that?" he demanded. "We have heard nothing from the President of the United States. When we do hear, we will take up that question."
Warren E. Stone declared that if the President made an appeal to the men "it would be considered."
He added, however, that there was
"no likelihood of the strike."

LEE'S STATEMENT.

Elmer Lee, chairman of the National Conference Committee of the railroads, tonight made the following statement:
"We have offered to leave to the Goethals eight-hour commission recently appointed by the President
any questions that may remain unsettled by the Congress in the Adamson law. We have offered to submit the whole controversy to the eight-hour commission if the law
is declared unconstitutional and to accept any decree of the commission."

POMONA, March 15.—With the prospect of a railroad strike looming, P. J. Draher, general manager of the San Antonio Exchange, cleared the decks for action this afternoon
by calling eight packing-house managers into a conference and issuing orders for them to get onto the trucks tonight as many carloads of oranges as they can load.
The only thing which prevents the valley from starting 200 or 300 carloads of oranges to market at once is that refrigerator cars cannot be had. The packing-houses have been turning out about forty carloads of fruit a day, while their capacity is about fifty-three cars.
Every empty refrigerator car in the railroad yards of this valley will be loaded tonight and started on its way East. The shippers hope that

CANNOT STATE FIRE'S CAUSE.

Old Rosslyn Hotel Buildings Scene of Blaze.

Frightened Chinese Dragged to Safety by Police.

Nine Hundred Guests in Big Hotel are Disturbed.

After an extensive investigation, Fire Chief Ely announced last night that the cause of the fire yesterday in the basement of the old Rosslyn Hotel buildings is unknown. The total damage is estimated at $45,000.

The stores and shops damaged, their losses and insurance, if any, follow: Rosslyn Bar, No. 431 South Main street, $300; insurance, unknown; Three-L lunchroom, No. 437 South Main street, $300; insurance, $300; Morris & Snow food Co., No. 438 South Main street, loss $500; insurance, $10,000; Oriental Cafe, No. 445 South Main street, loss $300; insurance, unknown; Scotch Woolen Mills, No. 423 South Main street, loss $250; insurance, $10,000; Rosslyn hotel buildings, loss $17,000; insurance, not stated; Eagle Shoe Company, No. 441 South Main street, loss, $25.

The fire broke out at 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning, supposedly in the basement of the Oriental Cafe, and spread thence to the Morris & Snow food Co.'s store. A general alarm was sent in to the fire department, which brought all the downtown apparatus to the scene. Within an hour and a half the fire was under control.

As in the fire Tuesday which damaged the Occidental Hotel and the store of the P. W. Woolworth Company, the continuity of the basement of the old Rosslyn made the fire exceptionally hard to fight.

More than 400 men and women guests in the Rosslyn structure were aroused and added to escape from the burning buildings. The fire was confined mostly to the basements and first floors of the buildings.

Fifteen Chinese who occupied a portion of the building, were saved by Police Sergeant Henry Toomey and Fire Lieutenant H. J. Johnson, who battered down the doors of the room and dragged the frightened orientals to the streets.

The buildings damaged are owned by the O. T. Johnson Corporation and by P. D. Hall of St. Louis, Mo.

FOR STATE SURVEY.

Industrial Education Scrutiny is Contemplated in California and Should Lead to Some Reduction of Waste, Says Official.

As a California State survey of industrial education is being planned by Dr. Albert Shields, superintendent of city schools, who returned from the East yesterday, was much interested in the results of a similar survey in Indiana, which formed the principal topic considered at the Indianapolis convention of societies for the promotion of industrial education, which he attended.

One of the results of such a survey should be, he said, a reduction of waste through mismanagement of effort in providing for vocational training. Dr. Shields also attended the convention of school superintendents at Kansas City, where he told, among other things, of the work accomplished here by Supervisor Clayton F. Palmer of the agricultural department and Director E. J. Lickley of the department of compulsory education.

RESTRICTION UPHOLD.

Property of Saloonists Reverts to Rail Line, Under Court Order.

The District Court of Appeal yesterday affirmed the judgment of Superior Judge J. W. Mahon in favor of the plaintiff in the suit of the Southern Pacific against H. W. Blaisdell and others, praying for an injunction to restrain the defendants from selling intoxicating liquor on a certain lot in Moron, now known as Taft, and to quiet title to the property involved.

The decision is valuable, as indicating the power of a restrictive clause in a real estate contract. For on January 28, 1910, a contract was entered into between the railroad company and Blaisdell for the sale of two lots in Moron, in which it was agreed that the premises should never be used as a place for the sale of intoxicating liquor, it being provided that if it was so occupied the title should revert to the company.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Pedro Ybarras, whose true name is Hon. Show Tin, and who is a full-blooded Chinese, and the head of a number of yellow men "shanghaied" in Manchuria, several years ago, to work on railway construction in Mexico, was started on his way to Mexico yesterday, under a deportation warrant. He had been naturalized in Mexico as a Japanese, and was picked up when he crossed the line at Eagle Pass. Other aliens sent home were Louis Woon and Louis Chord. They are bound for China.

TRUSTEESHIP'S LONG VACANT.

More to Settle Hourly Claims Made After an Interval of Forty Years.

John Jones was appointed trustee to settle claims made against the property of H. J. Yarrow July 16, 1870. Mr. Yarrow died three days later. He was unmarried and had no heirs. He owned some property in this county. Mr. Jones died December 28, 1874, and since that time no successor has been appointed in the trusteeship. Yesterday John Lophin petitioned the Probate Court to be appointed trustee to succeed Mr. Jones.

NONSECTARIAN; IT MEANS WHAT?

Lankershim Sunday-School Workers to Enlighten Educational Board.

Lankershim Sunday-school workers want to hold a Bible class in a room belonging to the Board of Education. They yesterday asked for permission.

The members of the board looked at Supt. Shields as if for advice. "It's illegal to use public property for religious instruction," said the superintendent.

"They say it's for a nonsectarian Sunday-school," explained Secretary William A. Sheldon.

"Better refer it back to them and ask them what they mean by nonsectarian," said former Judge Waldo M. York, and that was done.

"You can do everything in the public schools except teach the Lord's prayer," commented acting President W. J. Washburn.

"They can teach that," gently corrected Supt. Shields.

TO GUARD HOUSES.

Report Card System is Adopted by Police to Curb Thieves Who Remove the Fixtures From Vacant Buildings—Plan is Operative Today.

To curb thieves who steal fixtures and other movable objects from unoccupied houses, a card system was adopted yesterday in the police department. On orders of Chief Butler, "vacant house cards" were issued to all divisions. They will be used for listing all properties standing unoccupied or about to be left vacant, and will be segregated on the basis of patrolmen's beats, insuring a maximum of police protection for the listed buildings.

Householders may secure the cards by addressing the police by calling at any police station. Each blank is to be filled out so as to show when and for how long property will be unoccupied, the name of the caretaker and other information. The plan becomes operative today.

FREAK ACT IS GIVEN A JOLT.

Excuse for One More Costly State Commission.

Member of Education Board Denounces Scheme.

Four Incumbents not to Try for Re-election.

The Board of Education is concerned over some of the bills now before the Legislature and yesterday it requested Dr. Albert Shields, Superintendent of Schools, either to appear before the committees at Sacramento or send Deputy Superintendent J. B. Monlux.

One bill, which Maj. Copp denounced, provides for another of those expensive commissions with which the Johnson administration was so prodigal. Its intention is to make a uniform system of physical training throughout California and this is to be accomplished through a State commissioner with a fat salary.

"I am opposed to this bill," said Maj. Copp. "It looks as if it is designed to create another job for somebody. A uniform system of physical training is inadvisable. Every locality has its own requirements. Physical training work in this city is different from that in some other places for very good reasons."

Maj. Copp said there are some other objectionable bills not in line with modern education. A number of the proposed measures are, however, favored, including one which will enable the board to sell its Mercantile place property and another under which the State will provide the funds for the junior college. Instead of the cost having to come out of the appropriations for the high schools.

A report that J. H. Bean is heading a ticket for the school board at the coming election was denied by the exchange, acted as chairman. The nominations for re-election, but will not be on any ticket because he does not believe in the re-election of the Board of Education. "I am opposed to anything like that," he said.

C. J. McCormick stated that Mrs. R. J. Waters would not commit herself. Maj. A. J. Copp was emphatic in announcing that he will not seek another term. Former Judge Bordwell, W. J. Washburn and Waldo M. York will not be candidates.

POPULAR CONCERT SERIES.

First Programme by Tandler Orchestra Sunday.

Music lovers of Los Angeles are promised an unusual enjoyment next Sunday evening. The first of a series of concerts under the direction of Adolph Tandler will be given during the dinner hour Sunday in the main dining-room of the Hotel Alexandria.

Mr. Tandler will lead an orchestra of twenty-five artists selected from the Los Angeles Symphony. The very latest music will be played, and no charge other than for the dinner will be made to guests. These concerts will be continued each week with change of programme.

The programme will include such selections as the "Afternoon of a Faun," by Debussy, prelude to "Die Meistersinger," "Caucasian Sketches" by Ippolitoff, selections from "Madame Butterfly," and some semi-popular numbers. The musical offering as a whole will be very nice.

MAKE OBJECTION STICK.

Hog raisers who feed grain, instead of garbage, to their hogs protested to the Board of Supervisors against the license tax imposed by the proposed hog ordinance. To meet this class of objection, the board yesterday instructed the County Counsel to amend the ordinance to relieve the burden of the license tax using grain. The ordinance provides that all garbage fed to hogs shall be cooked and the hogs fed from a platform.

TO LOOSEN JAM ON BROADWAY.

Reroute Cars that Turn at Seventh Street, Plan Urged on Council.

To relieve traffic congestion at Seventh street and Broadway the Public Utilities Commission yesterday recommended rerouting of street cars that turn at corner. According to the plan proposed by Chief Butler and approved by the commission, Grand avenue and West Seventh street cars would be routed to Seventh and Spring streets, while the West Johnson and University cars now running on Spring street would be routed via Broadway.

The Council is asked by the commission to approve the plan, and if this is done the Los Angeles Railway will be notified to make the change.

Broadway is the most-traveled street in the city, and at Seventh street vehicles are held up to such an extent that traffic sometimes is completely blocked.

NOMINATE HEADS FOR COMING YEAR.

BUILDERS' EXCHANGE HOLDS ITS ANNUAL MEETING.

Election will be held in April and the Number of Candidates is Ample Evidence that it will be Interesting—Reports from Officers are Read.

The Builders' Exchange of Los Angeles held its annual meeting in the headquarters in the Stimson Building yesterday afternoon, about a third of the membership of over 300 being present. The meeting was given over to reports by the secretary and other officers and to the reading of nominations for the official roster of the ensuing year. J. H. Bean, president of the exchange, acted as chairman.

The nominations for the presidency were left open, as it is anticipated several candidates will enter the race before the time of the regular election in April. H. B. Webster, secretary, will, it is understood, probably be elected by the new board of directors to succeed himself.

Walter Simons, M. Stepan and M. L. Yard received nominations as candidates for first vice-president, and Homer Hayward and S. L. Weaver were nominated for the office of second vice-president. John Griffin, the present treasurer, was the only man named for that office.

Five of the directors, L. B. Webster, W. E. Stradley, George Pedrini, William Henry and G. E. Arbogast, have another year to serve. For the twelve directorships to be filled the following were nominated: W. R. Simons, H. B. Potter, A. T. Eby, H. Wolfsterg, T. H. Griffin, W. C. Hay, G. L. Morris, P. E. Sawyer, M. A. Berne, Alfred Bayer, G. A. Saurer, R. F. Botawick, J. Burstein, L. F. Danforth, E. L. Mertz, William McArthur, J. Griffin, H. Hayward and G. H. Turner.

Odd Predicament of Man Who is Widely Wanted.

Murder Charged in Oroville and Forgery Here.

Meanwhile San Jose Saus Wood and Holds On.

Oroville wants him for murder and Los Angeles wants him for forgery, and San Jose is holding E. B. Rice, uncertain what disposition shall be made of him. Yesterday the San Jose officials informed the Sheriff's office of the arrest of Rice.

Immediately Oroville made known a claim Rice was wanted there in connection with the killing of James G. Cullom. The Sheriff's office here at once agreed to waive its claim if Oroville was certain of conviction, but otherwise Rice was wanted here for prosecution on the charge of having forged the name of J. H. Kerton, No. 726 South Harvard boulevard, to a number of checks.

It is alleged Rice stole the bank and check books from Kerton's overcoat pocket. Then, it is alleged, he passed checks on J. A. Brewer and J. H. Shepek, February 6.

Rice insists he has an alibi on the Oroville charge. He says he was a guest in a small hotel in the interior of the State that night, and the proprietress, Mrs. James Charlson, can confirm his statement. Efforts to locate Mrs. Charlson were without effect yesterday.

Reroute Cars that Turn at Seventh Street, Plan Urged on Council.

To relieve traffic congestion at Seventh street and Broadway the Public Utilities Commission yesterday recommended rerouting of street cars that turn at corner. According to the plan proposed by Chief Butler and approved by the commission, Grand avenue and West Seventh street cars would be routed to Seventh and Spring streets, while the West Johnson and University cars now running on Spring street would be routed via Broadway.

The Council is asked by the commission to approve the plan, and if this is done the Los Angeles Railway will be notified to make the change.

Broadway is the most-traveled street in the city, and at Seventh street vehicles are held up to such an extent that traffic sometimes is completely blocked.

BUILDERS' EXCHANGE HOLDS ITS ANNUAL MEETING.

Election will be held in April and the Number of Candidates is Ample Evidence that it will be Interesting—Reports from Officers are Read.

The Builders' Exchange of Los Angeles held its annual meeting in the headquarters in the Stimson Building yesterday afternoon, about a third of the membership of over 300 being present. The meeting was given over to reports by the secretary and other officers and to the reading of nominations for the official roster of the ensuing year. J. H. Bean, president of the exchange, acted as chairman.

The nominations for the presidency were left open, as it is anticipated several candidates will enter the race before the time of the regular election in April. H. B. Webster, secretary, will, it is understood, probably be elected by the new board of directors to succeed himself.

GLIMPSES.
ON THE RADIANT RIALTO
IN AND OUT OF OUR BRILLIANT MARTS OF FASHION.

By Olive Gray.
Now is the time to buy.
Silk stockings for summer wear. Hose will be more important than ever with the increased use of pumps.
The cotton materials for at-home making of your tailorish blouses and sport shirts. Lenten days are sewing days.
The eteseras for the sewing-room. Several houses are making a specialty of reduced prices on such items. "May a mickle make a muckle," runs an old Scotch proverb.

Daintiness about one's attire and care as to one's possessions come very near proclaiming one's character.
Many who can never judge us otherwise, do so solely through appearance. The woman of the man who is fastidious regarding dress and personal tidiness, is likely to be particular as to mental and moral regimen. She or he who keeps the law in relation to the minutiae of dress is more than likely to do so in relation to more important matters, hat persons who disregard the most intimate responsibility—care of the person and the clothes which are, in a way, its attire—is likely to rest lightly under graver duties.
The same is true in relation to the home. If everything is at sixes and sevens—or eleven and twelve—matters under the charge of the housewife are likely to be so all along the line.
And yet, there are those who are over-fastidious in both these matters. The person who is over-"groomed"—(please another word for that one which I detest!) is almost as disagreeable as the one who is under-cared-for. The home which is painfully neat, too spick and span for use, is no home at all. Here, as in nearly every matter, the happy medium is best in all respects.

Hurrah for Auld Ireland!
More and more are special days observed, socially, and each year the decorations and souvenirs in commemoration of such holidays become more interesting.
The greenery for St. Patrick's Day in the mornin', are this year more tasteful than ever. The papery napery with its imprints of shamrocks and Irish harps, the wee silk shamrocks for boutonnières, the silk Celtic flags, the stovepipe hats in green, the pipes of clay.
In truth the Irish potato should be the emblem supreme for this day dedicated to the welfare of auld Ireland—but who save multi-millionaires could afford such souvenirs!

Vegetable Millinery.
The high cost of living has not only "made" countless millions mourn" but it has mixed up our ideas of values and elevated to aristocratic circles many of the humble things of life. Not only has cotton taken its place beside silk and wool, in the world of dress, often being used together with it in the same costume, but the homely vegetables have proudly arisen to share the throne with flowers.
I thought of this when, in that big house-furnishing store, I watched the demonstrator making potato rosettes, with a new appliance for the purpose. When I asked if those were to be used to trim hats, she never cracked a smile, but painstakingly explained that "No, they were to be fried in deep fat, as one usually fries French potatoes." Even then they might be used as millinery—just a single rosette posed at the front of the semi-tailleur, you know.

Always There.
And did you know that, in that big house-furnishing store, they have a kitchen. "Trouble Finder" She is always there, ready to listen to your kitchen worries and to help you to reduce the hard work of kitchening. Flanked with every kind of implement for lightening housework, she not only shows how to use all these helps, but in case you already possess any of them and are not fully realizing on your investment, she will tell you why and show you how to better your condition.

Making Bengal Tiger "Look Pleasant"

A baby and his nurse.
This little fellow, making his professional debut with the Al Barnes wild animal show, is only 8 months old and is quite amenable to the discipline represented by his woman trainer, Miss Mabel Stark. He is a little, however, only in a comparative sense, as he tipped the scales yesterday at 148 pounds.

Wholesome Rind.
It is said that orange rind is most wholesome. A scientific test has proven that no germ can long survive when placed upon the white pulp of the orange. Hence, orange peel, when candied or preserved, is as wholesome as well as palatable. The Good Housekeeper prepares it thus: Cut rind in small, thin strips—the new orange knife will help. Stew for half an hour in clear water, drain and then cook in a medium thick syrup made from sugar and water, until the rind is clear. Roll in rather coarse granulated sugar and dry. Pack in tight jars. Will keep indefinitely. It is declared that the French army uses continuously a small ration of orange peel, as a means of keeping the system in good condition.

Fashion's Findings.
White net will continue to be used for evening frocks.
The Russian blouse has come to spend the summer.
Little girls' coats will be made of checked materials.
The most fashionable sweaters slip on over the head.
A great deal of lace will be used on blouses and dresses.
Charming little capes will be used with spring gowns.
There is no better dress for early spring than one of serge.
There should be a touch of handwork on your new blouse.
New hats are large and some of them have square crowns.
Oyster blue and orchid mauve is a spring color combination.
Hats are covered with striking plaid and striped materials.
Crepes de chine broche is likely to be used for evening dresses.
Brassieres sometimes are trimmed with soft chiffon flowers.
The fashionable hat is still the one with the least trimming.
The all-silk scarf is more fashionable than the one of wool.
Pockets will be important; if possible, more so than before.

CIRCUS ATTRACTS.

Wild Beasts that Roar and Romp in Fastnesses of Prager Park are Lendstone for Crowds; Show People Participate in Religious Service.

Out in the wilds of Prager Park, in a jungle of tentpoles and stout iron bars, a goodly proportion of Los Angeles' population strayed yesterday among various beasts of the field that make their lairs in the cages and corrals of Al G. Barnes's animal show. The pilgrims found red lemonade on the sawdust desert, fed on baked popcorn and otherwise showed they were at the circus for a good time.
All this was somewhat less novel for the show people themselves than the events of the morning, when Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher, pastor of the Temple Baptist Church, preached under the "big top." To the 700 employees of the show, gathered about an improvised pulpit in the center ring, the minister talked of the need for self-mastery. A mixed quartette from the Temple Baptist Church and Ray Hastings, the organist, assisted at the service.
The show's engagement here will close with tomorrow evening's performance.

CANDIDATES IN SPRING DRIVE.

Mayor Gets in Race; Others may Seek His Job.

Conwell After Council Berth Again; Gives Platform.

Municipal League Meeting to Name Ticket Tonight.

Nominating petitions for Mayor Woodman, who is a candidate to succeed himself, were secured yesterday and immediately placed in circulation. No other candidate for Mayor has yet obtained nominating petitions.
That R. M. Allen, who made an excellent showing two years ago when he was a candidate for the nomination for Mayor, will enter the race was confirmed yesterday by his friends, who said they would secure his nominating petitions today or tomorrow.
M. P. Snyder, banker, member of the Board of Public Service Commissioners and thrice Mayor, said last night he had not definitely decided to be a candidate. "It all depends upon the closing of my business," he said. Notwithstanding, it is generally accepted that Mr. Snyder will be a candidate and his formal announcement is looked for soon.
The Socialist party is preparing to put a candidate into the field and will name him at a meeting next Sunday.
It was rumored yesterday the Prohibitionists also contemplate putting a candidate into the race.

CONWELL COMES OUT.

J. S. Conwell, who has served two terms in the City Council, yesterday secured his nominating petitions for re-election and announced the platform upon which he will make the race. It contains twenty-six planks and concisely gives his attitude upon the important issues now confronting the public.

Mr. Conwell favors early distribution of aqueduct water and power; municipal ownership of power transmitted by lines bought or built for the city on terms protecting the city's interests; continued development of the harbor programme; consolidation of street railway franchises on the indeterminate principle, with purchase rights reserved to the city; abatement of downtown traffic congestion; elimination of grade crossings; encouragement of subways and pushing the Bunker Hill tunnel.
He also favors the continuance of the annexation programme; regulation of motor-bus transportation; development of a city plan and civic center; a central library as soon as finances will permit; acquisition of billboards from residential districts; modern jail facilities with proper segregation of sexes; useful employment of the unemployed; adequate police and fire departments; extension of health facilities; introduction of an executive budget; introduction of cost accounts in every department; classification of city employees and standardization of salaries; a central purchasing agent; simpler, more business-like and less expensive street-improvement procedure to take the place of the Vrooman Act.

Other planks of Mr. Conwell's platform favor the reduction of expenses in every department of the city government.
Councilman Robert Brain yesterday announced definitely that he will not be a candidate for re-election. He will devote his time to the automobile business.
There will be an important meeting of the Municipal League in Blanchard Hall tonight. The purpose is to select a ticket of candidates for the Council and possibly for other offices. Citizens representing all elements and factions have been invited to attend the meeting. Seward Simmons, secretary of the league, said yesterday the organization will not attempt to name the candidates and called the meeting merely to give

SENATOR SELL-OUT.

If anybody thinks that a patriot would resign a $6000-per-annum State office and accept a $2000-per-annum private secretaryship to a Senator out of his personal devotion to the Senator, he is unaware of the use both to the Senator and the secretary the pickings and stealings within the grasp of a rapacious, conscienceless and intelligent Senator. A citizen of that hot-house of vice, New York City, or that sink of iniquity, Chicago, who has a "thieving" which he wishes passed, will not bring to the attention of honest Wadsworth of New York, or Ham Lewis of Illinois, who would enough given to pick whomever he chooses and consider these men as susceptible. He will refer to a statesman Senator from the West, and the S. S. will say: "I have time to attend to this. I will have my private secretary look into it." And the secretary will "look into it" and in due season will report to the Senator that the proposed measure is all right. "And how rich, Paul, is there in it for us?" the Senator will say. "What is the geometry of it?" twenty thousand dollars for you and $5000 for me was his proposition. Paul will answer. "What did you tell him?" the Senator will say. "I told him," Paul will repeat, "that you could give your brother-in-law as pure as virgin snow on the hills a hoary rind in the valley, but that I was rich; that I did not resign a State office where the salary was $5000 and the stealings $10,000 to accept a beggarly secretaryship merely for my health; that I would undertake to influence you to put the measure through for the $25,000—which must be paid to me. He agreed to it. I will retain $10,000 for myself and the $20,000 I will give away where I keep my savings in the bar box in the lower drawer of my bureau, the duplicate key to which he will have, the duplicate key to the safe for the other day. I hope to be the holder of the key and not roll me in. If he does I will not dare say a word because of the way in which I got the money."

Good boy, Paul," the Senator will say. "I hear that a secretaryship to a Senator is a member of the Committee on Appropriations is worth $100,000 a year to the Senator and $30,000 to the secretary. Oh, what lies they do tell about public

The cartoon depicts a man with a crown and a fur-trimmed robe, representing a monarch or a powerful figure. He holds a sword upright, with the word 'PATRIOTISM' inscribed on its blade. The sword is positioned over a large pile of money, which includes banknotes and coins. The background is dark and textured, suggesting a night scene or a somber atmosphere. The title 'The Aztec' is written in a stylized font at the top right.

A political cartoon depicting a woman with a stern, almost angry expression. She is wearing a corset that has the words "THE RUSSIAN SPIRIT" printed on it in bold, capital letters. The corset is laced up with dark ribbons. She is also wearing a long, light-colored skirt and high-heeled shoes. Her hair is styled in an elaborate, wavy fashion typical of the early 20th century. The background is minimal, with some sketchy lines suggesting a floor or a wall.

SLAVES OF THE DRUG.

BY EDWIN MARKHAM.

Who are those haggard hosts
Groping the roads of earth—unburied
ghosts—
Pale youth and tottering age, a spectral
throng,
By some invisible master lured
along?
O heaven! is there no prayer with power to avert
These sad mad captives from the fend they serve?
They grope in every land,
Drawn ever onward by some dread
command;
And in their shadow, ever at their side,
Are the wraiths of all their hopes and dreams that died—
Phantoms that fling wild laughter
and wild tears
Into the crater of the wasted years.
And ever behind them the grope
Three crosses loom upon life's barren
slope,
Three crosses, side by side,
Which honor and love and truth are crucified.
What is this thing that scatters
blight and ban,
This stealthy Demon that unmakes
the man?
What gives to dust of poppy and coca leaf
The power to send one's soul un-reckonable grief?
What curse is on this dust?
What terrible "Thou must!"
What spirit builds this inframundane spell—
This feeeling heaven in the heart of hell?
See how their eyes in burnt-out
sockets glare
With glazed and frenzied stare;
Their bones are torture and their sins are fire,
Their will all withered to a fierce desire—
The hunger for a flame that feeds
a man
And huris red conflagration through the frame.
Ever their grope and ever their
demon cries
Into their ears the music of his lies.
He whispers: "I am rapture, rest
from pain;
I brave the body and I light the brain."
And so he builds illusion into his slaves,
Hiding from them his skeletons and
graves.
If he lulls one grief a thousand wako
from sleep;
If he lulls one ache a thousand pal-
sies creep.
Behold his bargainings—for life's bright bloom
He gives the bitter ashes of the tomb.
For strength he gives a crumbling
rope of sand,
For honor gives dishonor's scarlet brand.
He whispers peace, but gives eternal
thirst,
He builds bright visions filled with fame, pasture year, and waste sea fruit.
He offers realms, but gives a prison
cell;
He pledges heaven, but brings the tooth of hell.
For beauty's gesture and her look
He lights
For starry reason and for manly might,
He gives the sulking step, the furtive
eye,
The curse, the groan, the death that cannot die.
O brothers of the sorrows,
O brothers of the terrible tomorrows,
O captives blasted by the charnel breath—
Your names are written in the Book of Death.
Yet brothers of the gray battalions,
Turn back; you still are greater than your fate!
You still can win the sane, sweet dreams of old,
Regain your soul's lost hold.
Stronger are the shackles—strong—yet stronger still
Is the grim grapple of the indomitable will.
Let Will, O brothers, upsurge in tidal power
Your Will can make this hour God's victory hour.

RIPLING RHYMES.

THOREAU.

The books that Henry Thoreau wrote are little read these later years; men care not how a hermit
note disparaged in the woodland ways.
The struggle after stock and bond is so intense
He has by his pond, with hair and whiskers came to seed. Yet never abandoned his fame grow stale, while his assignments stick like wax; he is the man who went to jail before the American Civil War. I think of Thoreau in his cell, that hero after his could not serve, and feel the heart within me swell with admiration for his nerve. They tax us more each day to live on useless trash, and we are all such slaves of fear we meekly pay our hard-earned cash. In valuable prints we make a wall, for sympathy we make a bid; but no one dares to go to jail as Henry Walden Thoreau did. We may forget that great man's books, forget his deal with ax and rake; we may forget the sylvan nooks in which he came by a costly tax, but never forget how so lax as to forget this legendary tale: Before he'd pay a libber tax, the hero-martyr went to jail.

eet named Josef has been on the stage
quite awhile, and his performance

apotheosis of virtuosity as the musical circle put it.

WIFE INSANE OVER HUSBAND'S DEATH

SAD ENDING TO LIFE OF BERNARDINO FAMILY.

Health and Shock of Mrs. Bernardino.

San Bernardino, March 14.—[To the Editor of The Times:] It appears to me that the death of my husband, who was a very good man, was a great loss to me.

Several hours after the death of my husband, I was found in a state of unconsciousness by the doctor.

LAUNDRY DRIVER'S TROUBLE.

THE TIMES

say that the letter was masterly and he published it in the official organ of that diocese a few days ago.

The letter aimed to show that Rome was coming into collision with the national temper in Europe and the States, which the war has stimulated and made acutely self-conscious.

The result of this would be widespread revolt against the sectarian and medieval claims of the papacy as opposed to her Catholic side.

The action of the bishop appears likely to make the letter the official policy of the church toward reunion, which will, I think, be forced upon Rome from within.

The action of the bishop also undoubtedly marks the beginning of the moral awakening of the church. Men of all shades of opinion agree that the bishop has made the old Brazilian and opportunist policy of the church official.

Men feel that at last the church has given them a policy and something definite to fight for.

Being published officially, as it were, the letter will no doubt be widely copied in the papers of the other church.

I sent the letter to Joe Scott, the Roman layman. He sent me his blessing for my work against the Christian Scientists. I am amused to find that my last epistle appears to have completely silenced him.

The letter, published by the bishop, as it is, is felt to be a tremendous factor for the Romans, since all who are not Romans, and many Romans themselves, endorse the letter.

Very truly yours, C. H. VONSHIRE.

Socha's Colors Shown.

LOS ANGELES, March 15.—[To the Editor of The Times:] As a patriotic American and from things gleaned in reading Max Socha's paper, German, I think it would be well for the local Federal authorities to turn their attention to him. Such reading has no good influence.

He has lived and prospered in this country since he was a boy and should be proud to fight for it through the columns of his paper. But right now he is showing his colors and they are not the colors of the free.

Let every loyal American evince his patriotism by showing his approval of all our President does and opposing anything that would help prevent many young women from going astray.

Employment and Vice.

PASADENA, March 15.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I want to offer a suggestion that I believe would help prevent many young women from going astray.

More About Birth Control.

RIVERSIDE, March 15.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In The Times of the 8th inst., appears an editorial page an article written by a lady of unquestioned ability, on the subject of birth control, that contains food for thought.

ANSWER IN RIDDLES.

Birth Control and Economics.

POMONA, March 15.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The article "To Be or Not to Be," relating to birth control, while sound logic is a little too flippant to suit the topic, which in reality is a very serious matter.

There is not any doubt in the mind of the writer, but that the American people of the upper classes, both men and women, are to blame for this propaganda, because they have looked with scorn on people who had large families.

The second reason for small families among our people is the labor for every mother to educate her children, not to "do something," but to "be something."

It is a matter of wrong education and economics. People cannot raise large families, now, as they could years back, neither is it wise to have such large families, but a family of four or six children can be raised and that is as many as one woman ought to have, in justice to all.

Hispanic Purpose.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 15.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Referring to the report in your paper of February 28, concerning a meeting of Hindus at El Centro, in which it is said they may be violating the neutrality laws by raising money to start an armed uprising in India, I wish to deny money has been raised for any such purpose.

We are publishing a newspaper here, The Hindustan Gadar, solely for the purpose of advocating the principles of political freedom upon which the independence of the United States was founded, and in the same way that the Irish World and other prominent Irish papers advocate the independence of Ireland, so do we advocate the independence of India.

German-Irish Union.

LOS ANGELES, March 15.—[To the Editor of The Times:] One of the biggest illusions of the Germans in this war is the expectation of help from Ireland. Although there is an active, aggressive element in Ireland that would like to see British rule overthrown, there is a numerous loyalist element, equally if not more determined and aggressive in favor of British rule.

Having lived in Ireland and in the United States for some time, and having watched the antics of your State Legislatures and courts of justice—or more correctly, courts of injustice—I have arrived at the conclusion that better government can be secured for Ireland by being an integral part of the United Kingdom than by splitting away.

I am opposed to small States, as the smaller the State the more corrupt the courts. You can easily see it here, in the difference between Federal and State police courts. In one justice prevails, in the other injustice, and for that reason I prefer to be under a strong Federal government, rather than in a weak, corrupt State where the local politician would prevail.

Not so Trivial.

LOS ANGELES, March 15.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In The Times of March 6 you have a news item captioned "Trivial," and below, "Just Two Oranges," in which you tell of a complaint sworn out by an orange grower against a tourist who took "just one orange." Have you ever stopped to think what "just one orange" which every tourist feels has a right to take from an orchard means to the citrus grower? I dare say not, and that it seems a trivial thing to one who knows nothing of the deprivations of the "just one orange" tourists.

In years past I owned a five-acre lemon ranch on the boulevard at Hollywood. The trees along the 800 feet bordering the boulevard (at that time it was not a boulevard) were stripped clear of lemons by the tourists who felt at liberty to help themselves to "just two lemons" whenever they went past. I now own an orange orchard in the Glendora district. Of these we have a law which makes anyone who steals oranges liable to arrest. We call it stealing when, unfortunately, the tourist helps himself to our fruit; yet, in spite of the law, the orange trees bordering the main highways are depleted of their fruit regularly by the tourist who feels he has the privilege of helping himself to "just two oranges." It is rather trivial, is it not?

GEORGINA S. TOWNSEND.

Time to Prepare.

LOS ANGELES, March 15.—[To the Editor of The Times:] A few years ago in a talk with my lamented and much-loved friend, Bronson Howard, the leading dramatist of his time in America, I pointed out to him that sooner or later this country would be attacked, and what the result would be, unprepared as America was and is for war.

WOMEN'S WORK.

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY EMILY SQUIER.

How the city's recreation work has helped to reduce juvenile delinquency was one of the subjects discussed at the meeting of the Public Affairs Committee of the Friday Morning Club, held Tuesday afternoon at the Woman's Clubhouse, C. B. Raitt, head of the playground work in the city, showed with some interesting slides the growth of the work in Los Angeles, and told of the need for more expansion. Other speakers were Miss Jasmine Britton, supervisor of the children's department of the public library; Mrs. Arnold J. Burkelman of the Catholic Women's Club; Miss Gertrude Griffith, national secretary of girls' work of the Y.W.C.A.; Mrs. William S. Howard of the Harmonia Club; Mrs. Julia Kaufman of the Catholic Women's Club; Miss Grace Griffith, chairman of the Recreation-Public Affairs Committee, and Miss Orfa Jean Smith, referee of the Juvenile Court.

The speakers showed how the healthful and moral atmosphere of the well-supervised playground makes for better citizenship and healthier children; how the religious organizations are helping to bring attention to the child's body and mind as well as his soul; and how juvenile delinquency has decreased on account of the good work done in the city. A general discussion followed the programme.

Biennial Council Plans.

It is believed a large number of Los Angeles club women will attend the biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs at New Orleans, April 9 to 13. The women of Louisiana, who are making plans for entertainment which will fill the time not taken up by the business of the convention, are Josiah Evans Cowles, president of the General Federation, will be a special guest at the Hotel Grenada.

Executive Board Meeting.

The regular meeting of the executive board of the first district, California Congress of Mothers, will be held in the Hall of Records, today at 10 o'clock a. m. The president, Mrs. W. A. Calverly, will announce the names of those who will act on the committees at the district convention, which will be held at the district convention hall. Mrs. Anna O'bear will give a tentative outline of the convention programme as arranged by Mrs. O'bear, Mrs. Howard Trotter, and Mrs. Cree T. Work.

The Civic Outlook Club of Redondo Beach enjoyed a splendid lecture on the immigrant problem given by Mrs. Edwin H. Brooks, the district chairman of education, last Friday.

Friday Morning Club.

Frederick C. Howe, commissioner of immigration of the port of New York, will speak at the Friday Morning Club today in place of Dr. George Ellery Hale, who was called East last week. Mr. Howe's subject will be "After the War, What?"

To Whittier Audience.

Prof. J. K. Kern of the University of California gave an interesting address before the East Whittier Parent-Teacher Association, last Friday evening, on the subject of "Play and Recreation in the Rural Schools."

Lecture Tonight.

Prof. James Blackledge of the department of Hebrew of University of Southern California, will deliver a lecture on "Japan and the Japanese" under the auspices of the Entree Nons Club, tonight, at 8 o'clock, in the auditorium of the Boyce Heights branch library, No. 2200 East First street. He was a professor in the Anglo-Japanese school, Tokyo, for four years. He lived with the people and studied their peculiarities and social life.

TO SEE HOME PICTURES.

The Cherokee (Iowa) Club will hold its regular meeting tonight in the Times Assembly Room. One of the principal features of the programme will be the display of photographs of Cherokee scenes of bygone days, when some of the old settlers were active in its upbuilding. It is expected that there will be a large attendance, and a very interesting and varied programme has been arranged.

MUSICAL. FRIVOLS.

ALLIES CONQUERORS.

LYRIC CLUB GIVES VARIED NUMBERS AT CONCERT.

By Edwin Schallert.

Two Russians, a Frenchman and an Italian formed an alliance to win a musical victory at the close of the Lyric Club programme last night at Trinity Auditorium. The only local member of the quartette was the Italian, who has a German name, by the way—Mr. Eduard Lebegott. He furnished the lyric opportunity for Miss Dorothy Beach, mezzo-soprano soloist of the evening, to display her rather striking power and ability.

The concert was the second by the club this season. The audience was large and manifested a gratifying appreciation of the whole. The opening selections of the programme were of the pleasing order, but not essentially different from what the club has presented on many other occasions. The Scarf Dance by Chaminade, because of its popular appeal and its natural effectiveness, was something of a novelty in the Spoons arrangement for chorus. Gertrude Ross's lovely, pretty, and somewhat sustained quality, was encored. "Will o' the Wisp" also met with popular approval. "The Legend of Mian," by De Fontaine, the long, est number of the programme, was thin-waisted in musical content, holding about the same amount as a good woman's chorus as Mascagni's "Iris" does to a good opera.

Among the effective numbers presented at the close of the evening was the "Song of the Shepherd Lehi," by Rimsky-Korsakoff, and there is a splendid originality and business in Mousset's "Prayer" from "Boris Godunov," which, from the same opera, the club rendered. These Russians, the Frenchman, the Frenchman's contribution to the quality alliance was by the ever-fluent and charming "Bambino's" lilt "Nymphs and Fauns."

Miss Beach in her rendition of Juno's Aria from "Semle" revealed the highest of voice and a sliver of certainty of expression. The accompaniment, animated almost to the degree of turmoil at times, is a difficult one to sing against. Miss Beach seemed to possess the requisite dramatic force and distinction. Her score to the aria Mr. Lebegott's interesting "Passa la tempesta," Miss Beach's one dangerous tendency might be toward taking her resources too greatly; altogether, though she is an exceptional singer.

Miss Frieda Peycke, who was also featured in her rendition of the programme, amused and pleased her listeners by her presentation of "The Foolish Fil Tree," a story of the evolution of the Christmas tree with a moral, by Henry Van Dyke, and for encore gave "The Child in the Garden."

Miss Helen Tappe and Miss Ruth Pinkerton presented incidental solos in choral numbers. Miss M. Henson brought to the stage her own vocal accompanist, delighted as she always does. The club also had the able assistance of Adolph Chick at the organ and Jay Flower, flutist.

In the voice of the chorus there was at times too much transparency. Their work looked solid colors and body. Always, however, it is possessed of that gladly exhilarating radiance that makes the songs so peculiarly to most trained voices. Director Poulin's conducting, while accurate and painstaking, was not illustrated by the fire he has evinced on other occasions.

Lecture on "Choral."

A clear outline of the character of the Ninth Symphony by Beethoven was given by Mrs. Ethel Graham Lynde at the district convention, Wednesday morning in the music department of the Ebell Club. She also gave a lecture on the same subject at the organ and Jay Flower, flutist.

Freeby, who gave excerpts from the work at the piano. A feature of the programme was also the brief talk by Albert J. Adams, the local composer, on his viola concert.

Mrs. Lynde recently was marked by success in her lecture on "Massed Choral," which she gave at Symphony Hall.

Symphony Programme.

The Symphony Orchestra programme this afternoon at Trinity will include Tchaikovsky's "Pathétique" symphony and "1812 March," beside the new viola concert by Albert J. Adams, the local composer.

Mrs. Lynde recently was marked by success in her lecture on "Massed Choral," which she gave at Symphony Hall.

Public Hearings.

State Commission is to Discuss with Trades Affected Several Proposed Changes Concerning Minimum Wage and Maximum Hours.

The Industrial Welfare Commission will on March 25 hold public hearings relating to the fruit and vegetable industries and the vinegar, pickling, preserving and olive industries.

Orders concerning the minimum wage, maximum hours of work and standard conditions of labor of women and minors engaged in the fruit and vegetable canning industry were issued on February 14, 1916, becoming mandatory sixty days thereafter, but after having observed the operation of these orders for a year the commission desires to alter and amend them in certain particulars. It is for the purpose of considering such alteration and amendment that the public hearing will be held in the fruit and vegetable canning industry.

The hearing will be held in the fruit and vegetable canning industry. The commission also intends to fix minimum wages in the fruit and vegetable canning industry. Preliminary to the calling of a wage board an election will be held in No. 12 on the 12th of March. The stores in San Francisco and Los Angeles, at which time the women employees will choose a representative to attend a conference of employees. From this conference the commission will choose three representatives of employees to sit on the wage board. The Retail Dry Goods Association of California has been requested to submit to the commission a list of names from which the commission may choose three representatives of the employers to sit on the board.

TWO MEN HURT IN OIL FIELDS.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)
FULLERTON, March 15.—Two men were injured in accidents at the oil fields yesterday morning. Neither was seriously hurt.

W. J. Robinson, a driller employed by the Union Oil Company at well No. 12 on the 12th of March, was standing near a moving cable when it suddenly slackened, catching his foot and inflicting a compound fracture near the ankle.

His hand caught beneath a swiftly-revolving drill, Archie Stickney, a machinist in the employ of the Union Tool Company at Brea, all but had a hole bored completely through his hand. The machine was stopped by a man who came to a stop by itself, something having gone wrong, but not until the drill had inflicted a one-inch hole nearly through Stickney's hand.

ROAD AND DOWN BROADWAY.

ROAD SHOW COMING.

ROSE STAHL THINKS OUR SHOPS ARE CLASSY.

By Grace Kingsley.

Once a year the Orpheum management brings West's Bill de Luxe, otherwise known as its road show. It isn't the same show each year; in fact, it's annually an entirely different one; but as an institution the road show is firmly installed in the public cognizance. To the theatergoer of Los Angeles it's what St. Patrick's Day is to the Irishman. Fourth of July to the small boy, Valentine's Day to adolescent youth, the Salvation Army's Thanksgiving dinner to the newboy.

Again the hour arrives for the Orpheum road show; to be exact, the event opens on the 26th inst. There are seven acts, only one being held over from next week's show to complete the usual eight acts—this hold-over being the Los Angeles favorite, Dorothy Jordan.

Los Angeles feels especially interested in the event this year because it brings the perfected dancing act of Marian Morgan, the members of whose company are nearly all Los Angeles girls. These return bringing the New York seal of approval as well as that of Martin Beck.

Others on the bill will include Fred Hallen and Mollie Fuller in "The Corridors of Time," Tempest and Sunshine, Harry and Anna Seymour, Flanagan and Edwards, Pat Barrett and Better brothers.

Wallace's Backlog.

Ramsey Wallace and Warner Baxter were having a hot argument yesterday at rehearsal over national compulsory military training, or the cause of the high cost of living, or whether to stand pat on a four-flush or draw, or some other equally vital matter, and finally Baxter got irritated and snarled.

"Well, you couldn't live thirty years without learning something," "No, but you could," was Wallace's comeback.

For Art's Sake.

Having been awakened by and witnessed two big hotel fires in the early morning since she arrived in Los Angeles, Beatrice Herford, Orpheum star, though not a sufferer in either, is now threatening to do a stunt in which the woes of the unclad guest, aroused out of sound slumber by the subject. Despite the inroads on her beauty sleep, Miss Herford sacrificed comfort to art and approached as near the fire lines as she felt warranted to permit, in order to hear any pearls of thought which might drop from the lips of the fleeing hotel guests. She declares she garnered a few.

Rose Likes Our Shops.

No less an authority than Rose Stahl, appearing at the Mason in "Our Mrs. McChesney" this week, declares our Los Angeles shops to be as smart as any in the world. In either, she is now threatening to do a stunt in which the woes of the unclad guest, aroused out of sound slumber by the subject. Despite the inroads on her beauty sleep, Miss Herford sacrificed comfort to art and approached as near the fire lines as she felt warranted to permit, in order to hear any pearls of thought which might drop from the lips of the fleeing hotel guests. She declares she garnered a few.

Daddy Long-Legs' Returns.

Los Angeles theatergoers will welcome Frances Carson and George A. Mason in "Daddy Long-Legs" at the Mason on the 26th. The cast is said to have been personally selected by Henry M. Warner, who is presenting the comedy last season.

How It Happened.

"Poor Butterfly," the ballad which is so popular nowadays, was written especially for Haruko Onuki, the Japanese prima donna, who is appearing at the Orpheum this week. "Poor Butterfly" was sung by Miss Onuki last season at the New York Hippodrome, where she was prima donna of the big show.

Mustache and Wins a Bet.

The mustache of Thomas Hines, Montana copper magnate, cost William Deeks, Pasadena millionaire, just $25 and spoiled a luncheon at the Angeles yesterday.

For twenty-five years Mr. Hines, one of the well-known mining operators of the country, has worn a hirsute adornment on his upper lip.

The short, snappy business men's mustache cuts evolved by barbers were copied from the Montana man when he arrived in Wall street.

Mr. Deeks has been in many deals with Mr. Hines. Yesterday he was buying the latter a luncheon to celebrate the consummation of a recent coup. During the meal, possibly with the soup, the matter of mustache-wearing came up.

The Pasadena dweller on the joys of a smooth-shaven face. He dared his friend to cut the hair from his upper lip. "Bet you $25 you haven't the nerve," he said.

In a flash Mr. Hines was on his feet. "I'll just take that," he said, starting the stairway. He hurried to the barber shop, grabbed the only vacant chair and in ten minutes came forth completely shaven.

Mr. Deeks paid the bill, ruefully remarking his luncheon had been spoiled. When Mr. Hines got home he picked up the mustache and spent his winnings on a gift to placate the balance of his family.

CRUSHED BY WAR.

Baroness von Zimmermann, mistress of "Rosamond Castle," on Oak Knoll, is in a critical condition induced by grief and worry.

The condition of Baroness Rosa von Zimmermann, mistress of Rosamond Castle, Oak Knoll, was reported as being exceedingly critical last night, and grave fears are entertained for her recovery. She has been ill more than a year.

The Baroness' grief over the war so preyed on her that she went into a decline which later developed into dropsy and other complications. She was finally her friends refused to discuss the war with her or in her presence. She lay almost at the point of death for many months last fall in the Good Samaritan Hospital.

Attended by trained nurses, she is now at the Zaida apartments, so that she can be near her physician, Dr. R. D. Emery.

Outlook.

HIGH HOPE FOR A DIVER BASE.

Angeleno Back from Capital with Much Confidence.

Thinks Appropriation is to be Made Next Month.

Local Cause will be Pressed at Extra Session.

Capt. James Irvine returned to Los Angeles from Washington yesterday morning, confident that Congress during the extra session next month will make an appropriation for a submarine naval base at the Los Angeles Harbor.

Capt. Irvine, Edward P. Trefz, associate secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and S. A. Jubb, former engineer for the Los Angeles Harbor Commission, went to Washington to work for a submarine base here. Had it not been for the ill-will of the navy, the commission and the various incidents connected therewith, Capt. Irvine is sure provision would have been made for the Los Angeles diver base then.

Plans have been thoroughly formulated, however, by the Chamber of Commerce and other bodies directly interested, so that every effort will be made at the session next month to get the much-needed appropriation. A canvass among members of Congress shows there is sufficient sentiment in favor of the measure to insure its success.

OSBORNE TO LEAD.

Congressman Osborne, who will leave probably the latter part of next week for Washington, will devote practically all his time to the measure. He will be accompanied by data, maps, etc., prepared by Capt. Irvine. At the request of the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Trefz will remain in Washington to aid in the campaign. His wide acquaintance with the status of the nation and familiarity with proceedings at Washington will be of much service. It is possible also that Capt. Irvine will return to Washington before the session begins, to give all assistance in his power.

Reports on San Diego, Los Angeles and San Francisco will be presented by the Naval Affairs Committee next visiting California. The naval appropriation bill will have the right of way at the session. It is estimated this will occupy ten days. Immediately thereafter will come consideration of the bill for the preparation of naval sites.

Capt. Irvine said yesterday that the Los Angeles men found when they reached Washington that there was great lack of knowledge of the real situation, and they set about a campaign of education. They showed a rich area of 32,000 acres in this region lies unprotected—a rich piece of land that might be coveted by any nation with which we might have war, and that should it be occupied by the enemy, an army of 100,000 could easily be maintained because of the peculiar geographical situation and conditions. They found that only one member of the committee on Naval Affairs had carefully studied the Heim report, and more time was wanted to digest it. "The only real trouble we encountered," said Capt. Irvine, "was from some of the southern members, who insisted that to secure support from them, there must also be provision made for naval bases at points on the Gulf of Mexico. After our canvass of the situation we feel confident the clause for the Los Angeles naval base will go through at the next session. The entire project is estimated to cost $2,500,000, and we will probably get an appropriation of $400,000 for the beginning of the work. Thereafter we may expect a continuous appropriation until the work is completed."

TAKE UNUSUAL STEP.

Federal Judge Orders Second Examination of San Bernardino Man Alleged to be Responsible for Death of Leading Los Angeles Officer.

A new wrinkle appeared in the United States District Court yesterday, when Judge Trippe issued an order providing for the examination by the Referee in Bankruptcy the 33rd time, in the examination proceedings, of Charles Frankish, a business man of San Bernardino, who is alleged to be responsible for the death of a leading Los Angeles officer.

At the time of the trial it was claimed that Mr. Frankish had guaranteed the book accounts of the Foster Company, and that he was liable for a bill of paint supplies contracted from the Ohio concern. The court held in harmony with that contention, but an execution was returned unsatisfied. An attempt will now be made to see if Frankish has any assets that can be realized upon.

According to the memory of the oldest attaché of the local Federal Court this is the first time that supplementary proceedings have been invoked for the collection of a judgment.

COURT HALTS PEN.

Writer of Book on Success Must Support Children.

James R. Nickum was so engrossed in writing a book on health and success that he permitted his children to become hungry and sick, and as a result was arrested yesterday on a charge of failure to provide. He informed the court he spent many hours daily in writing his book, the theme of which is how to live so as to have perfect health and how to make that health bring success.

He said he expected to make a fortune from his book. Superior Judge Craig held him under $500 bail to support his children. Nickum lives at No. 631 West 75th street.

DENIES THEFT CHARGE.

Enrique Arevalo, opera singer, was arrested before Superior Judge Craig yesterday on a charge of grand larceny connected with his disposition of jewelry purchased with money belonging to Mrs. Mary E. Ullery of San Diego. He pleaded not guilty and his trial was set for May 29.

Son of Plaintiff by Former Marriage Named Co-respondent in First of Three Actions Involving Prominent Couple—Defendant Appears and Asks Dismissal.

The first trial of the divorce suit of John F. Smith against Adelaide Smith, in which Archie Smith, his son by a former marriage, was named co-respondent, resulted in a decree for Mr. Smith. Mrs. Smith did not appear.

Subsequently, it was discovered that Mrs. Smith had gone to the wrong court, and the decree was set aside. On rehearing, the action and the testimony was conflicting, and both husband and wife were denied. Yesterday the third trial was set for hearing, and Mrs. Smith appeared with her counsel, but Mr. Smith did not. It was stated that the case would be dismissed by stipulation of both parties.

IN AND OUT.

ABOUT THE COURTS.

CONDEMNATION SUIT. The Arroyo Park Corporation, Minnie E. Chapman and sixty-three others, are named defendants in a condemnation suit brought yesterday by the city of Pasadena, through City Attorney James H. Howard, to condemn property for the opening and widening of Sheldon avenue from Arroyo drive to Montana street.

PREFERS SINGLE LIFE. To his own satisfaction Michael Kalamian, a shoe salesman, proved that he had enough money for himself, but not for his wife. So he made a mistake in marrying her, and that, while she was a fine little thing, and he wished her luck, he was strong for the single life. His wife, Lillian Kalamian, sued for divorce and was granted a decree by Judge Wright yesterday. She said that her husband would not work and put in his time reading books.

WINS SUIT. For mental anxiety, pain and loss of time, Judge Wilbur yesterday awarded Don R. Davis, an automobile salesman, $75 damages in his suit against Dr. John V. Malle, a dentist, who was alleged to have dropped a drill into Dr. Davis's throat while drilling a tooth. The drill was in Mr. Davis's system for eight days, he stated, during which time he was unable to work. Dr. Malle denied that he was negligent, and several dentists testified that even with great care the instrument occasionally slips out of their fingers.

INCORPORATIONS. The Los Angeles County Industrial Association, incorporated Charles R. Rogers, Marco H. Hellman, C. E. Miller, Walton J. Wood, Frank R. Willis, H. E. Housh, Frank M. Cole, Roy E. Langworthy, F. W. Houser, Paul J. McCormick and W. W. Mines.

VALUE OF FINGERS. A value of $2500 a finger was placed by Wallace Alfred Mann, 17 years old, on the fingers of his father, who was charged with the murder of his wife and her seventeen-year-old son, Raymond Wright, in the Los Angeles County Jail today. His attorneys, Ono Morton and W. T. Helms will ask for a continuance. The grounds for the continuance will be that Capt. Helms has just entered the case, and has not had an opportunity of interviewing the 150 witnesses, experts and scientists who are to be called. The case was continued once before when Attorney Earl Rogers withdrew, and Mr. Morton and Mr. Helms & Salzman took over the case. The latest addition to the staff of defense lawyers came recently.

CASE SETTLED. Because they were mostly Portland visitors who saw a leopard reach through the bars of its cage at a local film colony and claw the right arm of Miss Louise Odden, a musician of the Oregon metropolitan, the case of the film colony was quickly reached yesterday in her suit against the film company. Miss Odden claimed her arm was permanently disfigured by the accident, while the film company set up negligence on her part as a defense.

Because a friend was sick on the ship, Mrs. A. E. Thompson missed a boat that is carrying other friends to Honolulu. She registered yesterday at the Westminster, where she has stayed a few weeks of nearly every year during more than two decades.

"I have had the good fortune to visit nearly every winter resort in the world, and when all is said and done, there is no better place than Southern California," she declared.

She is the wife of the principal shoe packer and manufacturer of Chicago. Mr. Thompson is also interested in several fine confectionery shops and in numerous other lines of business in the Illinois metropolis. He will arrive here later.

RETRIAL WANTED.

In Case of Dairyman Convicted of Belvedere Slaying.

Application for a retrial of the murder charge against John Reuben yesterday by his attorneys today when he appears before Superior Judge Craig for sentence. The case was set for retrial because the jury was not satisfied until the innocence of their client was demonstrated, and would take the case to higher courts if necessary. Reuben was convicted of manslaughter in connection with the killing and burning of his partner in a dairy near San Diego, near Belvedere, February 7, 1916.

American Institute of Architects and United Improvement Federation Want Immediate Proceedings. Say the Signs are Unsightly and Distract from Beauty of City.

In a communication to the Council, yesterday, the board of directors of the Southern California Chapter, American Institute of Architects, expressed opposition to the billboard nuisance and asked that proceedings be instituted at once to abolish them.

"We respectfully petition your honorable body," the board said in its communication, "to initiate proceedings toward removing all billboards from the city of Los Angeles and its various districts. We are but a few of many thousands of citizens who believe that billboards are a public nuisance, and extremely objectionable. Now that our rights have been established by the Supreme Court of the United States, we desire to take the necessary steps to abolish this nuisance, which detracts so greatly from the beauty of our city."

It was announced yesterday by George W. Graydon, secretary of the Council, that the organization will tonight pass a resolution calling upon the Council to immediately enact an ordinance to eliminate billboards.

The special committee to represent the Chamber of Commerce in the billboard survey to be made by various civic and commercial organizations of the city was named yesterday by President L. D. Saie. George A. Brock is chairman and William Mead and C. S. Walton are the other members. The committee will meet tonight at the directors' room of the Chamber of Commerce.

Oppose Municipal Tax.

Resolutions condemning the Irwin bill, which provides for taxing municipal bonds, were introduced yesterday by the Council yesterday. The resolutions were unanimously adopted. The resolutions urged the Legislature to "take every honorable means to defeat the adoption of such a constitutional amendment."

New Markets Opened.

Two new municipal markets were opened yesterday. They are located at No. 591 South Main street and No. 1400 Santa Monica boulevard. In addition to the sale of large quantities of fish, vegetables were placed on the market at greatly reduced prices.

Oppose Undertakers' Zone.

After hearing a large number of protests against the proposed plan, the Council yesterday refused to establish an undertakers' zone at North Broadway and Workman street. The Councilmen were even divided on the proposition, three favoring and two opposing the plan.

FAVOR NEW LAWS.

The Board of Public Works yesterday recommended that an ordinance be prepared providing for the lighting of Lanewood avenue, between Orange and La Brea avenues. Citizens have installed the equipment for ornamental lights on the avenue and the city is to provide the power. A total of 1766 feet is included in the new lighting zones.

Act of Patriotism.

The American Red Cross Association was yesterday granted a permit by the Board of Public Works to string an American flag and a Red Cross flag across Spring street at No. 322 South Spring street. The board said: "We have issued this permit although it is a technical violation of the law, inasmuch as this action seems necessary to assist the American Red Cross Association in its work of preparing to aid American soldiers and render service to United States troops."

City Hall Briefs.

The City Hall was instructed yesterday to prepare an ordinance making it unlawful to park an automobile closer than ten feet on either side of a street to the curb of the district bounded by Mercantile place, Sixth street, Broadway and Spring streets.

Whether Sgt. Grogan, who is in charge of the traffic bureau, will get an increase of $25 per month will seem necessary to assist the Finance Committee of the Council. Chief Butler has recommended the increase. The officer has a protest against the Council against the ordinance providing for two pay days each month for city employees. He said the pay day would cost about $10,000 per year and the Council should keep expenses down.

President Betkowski of the Council was the acting Mayor yesterday and will until Mayor Woodman's return from Sacramento. Mayor Woodman is expected home Sunday. He went to the State capital to urge an amendment to the tideland bill, providing that harbor lands may be used for industrial purposes.

Adventure.

Party Arrives from New York After Defying Storms and Desert and Bad Roads Without Serious Mishap; to Remain Here for Several Weeks.

After having braved the winter storms of the East, the freshets and floods of the Middle South and the deserts of the West, a party of New York motorists pulled up to the Alexandria yesterday and reported a wonderful trip across the continent. Despite bad weather and some exceptionally bad roads, the trip was devoid of serious accident.

All the trouble we had was due to a few minor mechanical troubles and blowouts and punctures. We had a good group of the group. His brother, Erich Engel, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Decker and Miss Fanny Dowling are the other members of the party. They will remain here several weeks.

Colliery Owner, Here, Tells of Grievous Shortage.

At the City Hall.

Says Scarcity of Help is High Prices' Cause.

Laboring men of all kinds are much in demand in the East, particularly in the coal mines, according to M. W. O'Boyle, owner of three large collieries and president of the Trench Mining and Milling Company, operating at Patagonia, Ariz.

"We are operating with less than 75 per cent. of our normal number of men in various mines, and other companies are having to do with still less, owing to the shortage of help," he declared yesterday.

"There have never been greater opportunities for our men with knowledge of industries. Not only the laborer, but the executive, is much wanted in the coal fields of the United States, where there is a boom in business this country has ever known. I have not been in California long enough to observe conditions here, but I know that in Arizona good men are scarce and hard to get, 85 per cent. of them being at work."

Mr. O'Boyle stated the shortage of labor is one of the chief reasons for the advancing prices of many commodities. For once the coal men are not to blame for advancing quotations in this product, according to his statement.

"We have made no new prices ourselves," he declared. "Manufacturers and users of large quantities of coal have come to us and offered us from 50 cents to $2 a ton over the established quotations, just to get the fuel, and naturally have made the market."

The Arizona property in which the visitor is interested is a gold and copper mine at Scranton, O'Boyle and a daughter are in his party.

Buckeyes and Hoosiers to Meet in Attendance Contest at First United Brethren Church—Will also Observe All-States and California Day.

Four big attendance contests were announced yesterday by special committee of the First United Brethren Church, through the pastor, Dr. J. A. Eby. The two coming Sundays, under the plan, are to be State contest days between the former Ohians and Indiana of the congregation, and the succeeding two are to be, respectively, all-States day and California day.

There are about 100 former Ohio residents and about the same number of former Hoosiers in Dr. Eby's congregation and a warm contest is promised. The attendance will be counted at the Sunday-school and at the morning and evening preaching services, and the State showing the largest aggregate attendance on its particular day will be adjudged the winner.

WINS HOMESTEAD.

Federal Officials Find Mineral Claims of Contestants aren't Valid.

William B. Baugher won 115 acres of fine land in Mint Canyon yesterday, by the decision of Register Roche and Receiver Mitchell of the local Land Office.

Mr. Baugher won on the land several years ago, and had prepared his final proofs when Edward R. Swart and Catherine A. Sickle filed a contest against him, alleging that the land was mineral in character, and had deposits of gold and borax. It was further declared by the contestants that they had placed claims on the land known as the Gold Nugget, Gold Canyon, Last Chance and Gold Bug, and that they had given an option to a Los Angeles broker calling for the payment of $100,000 for the property, under certain conditions. The local officials found against the contention that the land is mineral.
